Reasons for having our Farm Shares in your Wellness Program

Whether or not you choose to help subsidize the cost of employee Farm Shares or simply help facilitate the program, there is little doubt that engaging in a Workplace Farm Share can help reduce costs to your business.

- Investing in your employees and their wellbeing will pay dividends in terms of employee productivity, retention and loyalty.
- Employees instantly share something in common with their peers allowing them to make new connections while they discuss recipes, trade items with each other and share cooking stories.
- Many employers have seen increased camaraderie, bring together employees from multiple departments, if even for a short period of time, who otherwise interact infrequently throughout the normal course of business.
- Facilitating a Workplace Farm Share program is also a great way to show your commitment to our community and local economy.
- The 2011 Kaiser Family Foundation and Health Research and Educational Trust annual survey of employer health benefits found that 67 percent of companies with three or more employees that offered health benefits also offered at least one wellness program.
- A review of 36 peer-reviewed studies of wellness programs in large firms found that average employer medical costs fell $3.27 for every dollar spent on wellness programs, and costs for days that employees were absent fell an average of $2.73.

Benefits of Farm Share Membership

- Healthy eating! Our program is great for those looking to begin or maintain a healthy diet.
- Great for families! Show your children how to use fresh vegetables in their daily meals.
- We offer a GREEN solution to food miles. Our delivery share greatly reduces the combined miles all customers would travel to 'pick-up'. Go GREEN and help reduce vehicle emissions.
- Organic agriculture eliminates harmful pesticides in your food. Know it's healthy and safe for your family and children.
- We pride ourselves by creating jobs and employing people from our community! We offer real wages for their hard work. Employees are passionate members of the farm that work year-round or seasonally. Be proud you support them too!

Your Best Value, Our Farm Shares!

- The average family of 2 spends $129 on food per week; family of 4 spends $186. *data USDA
- Our shares cost the equivalent of 2-3 weeks of family groceries, however it lasts 15 weeks!
- Our prices are low! Try filling our half-bushel box with organic produce for only $20 at other stores!
